seems to me simply whether slaughter-houses are neces-sarily a nuisance, and if they are not, whather butchers have not the right, in common with other citizens, to the occupation of their own premises. Are they to be driven out of the city for the fault of a few; and if so, why not abolish blacksmith-shops also? They are much more annoying than slaughter-houses, and tenement-houses are worse than either.

Mr. Lation—The question we are here to discuss that they were intended to be summoned. THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.,

OF NEW YORK.

FREDERICK S. WINSTON, President.

CASH ASSETS, - - $14,885,278.88

Referring to the annual statement of the Company and the dividend of $2,975,000 declared February 1, 1866, we present herewith some illustrations of the system by which it was allotted to policy holders.

The Company recognizes the principle that AMPLE SECURITY is a paramount consideration in Life Insurance, and neither in form or amount will any dividend be declared incompatible with that principle.

In addition to the proper reserve for re-insurance of outstanding risks, there still remains an undivided surplus of $1,200,000.

DIVIDENDS will be declared annually hereafter, and may be used either to purchase more insurance, in reduction of premiums, or on "paid up" policies they may be drawn in cash on the date of each policy in any year.

The annual dividends on these policies exceed the annual premiums. So that a policy-holder, by applying his dividends to the payment of future premiums, not only avoids all further out ay, but his policy annually increases in amount. The dividends on policies of a more recent date, including those issued last year, may be applied in like manner to the full extent of their accumulations.

Insurers who do not thus apply their dividends, have the full benefit of the large additions to their policies, as shown in the above table, and may, at any future period, use such portions of their dividends in the payment of any one or more presimums, as they may desire.

As a general rule, in our Company life policies of five years standing and upward have dividends sufficient, if gradually relinquished, to cancel premiums for as many years as they have been in force.

In another table of the circulars referred to, certain policies are temporarily doubled in amount after five years full premiums have been paid. This seems a wonderful result; but it is merely buying a term policy for five years, and if the policy holder lives beyond that tune, and is unable to pass another imedical examination, the money is a total loss. This system estables a person to entirely loss all the dividends of a life-time which have been applied to "term insurance." This is indeed as advantage "never before granted."

The "MUTTAL LIFE." long since ceased to issue "term policies," but their policy holders, after the payment of five fell premiums, can achieve the same result, and keep their accumulated dividends by simply applying the amount of their annual dividends and Orphans Benefit Life Insurscent Longany," or any other one.

It is also claimed that the tabular results quoted "prove the great superiority of the each system over the note system."
